Social Media, Technology & Faith: Implications for the Modern Family

Bill
Bowman

Bill Bowman is the managing director of risk management and chief information security officer for Eze Software in Boston. In this role, Bill and his team work to keep the bad guys out of their environment. He also founded the ISC Squared organization for cyber security professionals in Boston. One of the pillars of the group is to provide talks to schools and parents about how to make good decisions on line. Bill speaks to dozens of schools and organizations throughout the Commonwealth each year. As a father of 5 children from ages 11 to 20, he and his wife Jennifer have watched the kids make good and bad choices with technology.

Jamil
Samara

Jamil Samara is Director of the Department of Internet Ministries of the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese of America, where Web Development, Communications, and Theology intersect. He is a graduate of Boston College with a B.S. in Computer Science and of Holy Cross Seminary with a Masters of Divinity. He is a parishioner and chanter at St. Mary Orthodox Church in Cambridge and has held many leadership positions in the Antiochian Archdiocese. Jamil speaks to community groups on the intersection of Faith and Technology, drawing on his extensive knowledge of both, to bring audiences to a better understanding of the Orthodox view of the Human Person and what it means to interact with technology as such.
